Chiropractic and Health Sciences

COLLEGE OF HEALTH SCIENCES

ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE IN RADIOLOGIC TECHNOLOGY (A.A.S.)

The Associate of Applied Science in Radiologic Technology degree at Cleveland University-Kansas City (CUKC) requires a total of 75 credit hours. Your CUKC admissions advisor will work with you to evaluate and transfer your prior coursework. (Professional radiologic technology courses may not be transferred.)

COURSEWORK - SPRING START

Professional radiologic technology courses are delivered in a lock step, competency-based format. Each module, students are scheduled to complete specific courses as a cohort. This facilitates satisfactory progression in the Radiologic Technology Program. There is no deviation from the course sequence determined by program officials. All Radiologic Technology professional courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better.
